Observing Labor Day.

Organized Workmen Make a Grand Showing.

THOUSANDS MARCH THE STREETS

Chicago Leads the List With Fifty Thousand People in Line, the Largest Ever Witnessed in That City—Big Parades in Other Cities.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The wage workers of Chicago who have organized for self-protection and the betterment of their condition have been instrumental in making yesterday a memorable one in the history of labor. Not less than 50,000 of them celebrated the day which has been set apart as a holiday by the laboring classes of the country. Business was generally suspended; factories, workshops and industries of all kinds took a rest, and the streets were crowded with holiday keepers and their wives and children.

The parade, which was under the auspices of the trades and labor assemblies, was one of the largest ever seen in this city, fully 50,000 people being in line. As early as 8 o'clock members of the various organizations began to gather on the lake front, the first division resting on Michigan avenue, the fifth on the lake shore, and the others in rotation between. Charles O'Connell was chief marshal, with John Mackin and Louis Ziegler as aides. Promptly at 11 o'clock the signal was given and the great procession moved. There was also a separate parade under the auspices of the central council of the Knights of Labor, in which several thousand knights participated.

In Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was observed in a becoming manner in this city, many factories and wholesale houses closing in order that their employees might enjoy the day. The weather was clear and pleasant. At 11 o'clock about 6,000 members of different trades unions formed in procession, and after parading the principal streets of the business section of the city, marched to the Bellevue house where the day was spent in picnicking, games, and in listening to speeches by Representative Green, the author of the labor law in this state. Nothing but American flags were carried in the procession.

In New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Two separate labor parades were the peculiar feature that marked Labor Day in this city. One was under the auspices of the Federation of Labor and the other under that of the Central Labor union.

In Brooklyn all business was suspended. The various labor organizations made a parade early in the day and were reviewed by Acting Mayor McCarthy and the grand marshal. In the afternoon a grand festival was held at Ridgewood and High Ground park.

In Boston.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The labor organizations in and around Boston celebrated Labor Day in the same general manner as in previous years. The day is a legal holiday and all business, including the editions of the evening papers, was suspended. In this city the parade was the largest that has ever been seen on this day, the divided councils that prevailed in former years having united their forces in one grand procession in which 10,000 participated.

In Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was generally observed here. All the banks, factories and mills and many business houses were closed. The day was bright and nearly 10,000 workmen, representing all the trades in the city, took part in the parade. Similar demonstrations were held at Jeannette, Greensburg and other surrounding towns.

In Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 2.—Labor day was celebrated by an enthusiastic demonstration. Mayor Peck's proclamation suggesting a general holiday for all who desire to participate was very generously responded to. Nearly 10,000 working men were in line in the parade.

In Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2.—Labor day was elaborately observed here. There was an immense parade of the labor organizations, followed by appropriate exercises. All the state offices and a majority of the private houses were closed.

WANTED BUT ONE FLAG.

A German Flag Pulled Down, Torn Into Shreds and Trampled On.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 1.—The German flag was pulled down, torn to shreds and trampled under foot yesterday afternoon in Allegheny by J. O. U. A. M. men. It was carried by the bakers' contingent in the labor parade. At Arch street and North avenue, one aid was prevailed upon by some influential members of the J. O. U. A. M. to order the obnoxious flag hauled down. The bearer refused and raised the banner higher and untied it to the winds.

The aid rode off and the spectators began to jeer. There were a large number of Junior Order men around and they were particularly incensed. They called back the aid and insisted that the German flag be removed. The officer thus urged rode into the ranks and took hold of the banner. He tried to take it away from the men who carried it, but the men in the ranks quickly surrounded the aid and essayed to beat him off. Policeman Diebold, of the Allegheny force, dashed into the thick of the fight and beat the horse and rider with his mace. For a time it seemed that the champions of the flag would win. Therefore the J. O. U. A. M. men, who had encouraged the rides to remove the flag, took part. Canes and fists were used, resulting in black eyes and torn clothes. Policeman Diebold was roughly handled.

Despite the efforts of the bakers and the policemen the flag came down. The Junior Order men secured the banner, and in about a minute all semblance to a country's emblem was gone. The silk was torn to shreds and the men trampled them under foot. Having won the victory they shouted, "America for Americans." "The stars and stripes the only banner on our streets," and other patriotic sentiments. They retired, and the bakers closed up their ranks and proceeded on their way, but they were angry and will not go away for some time. They threatened vengeance. No arrests were made.

SINGLE TAX CONVENTION.

Representatives From Thirty-Two States Meet in New York City.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The large hall in Cooper institute was crowded yesterday afternoon at the opening of the National Single Tax convention. 320 delegates, representing single tax chiefs from thirty-two states and the District of Columbia were present. William T. Crookdale called the convention to order. H. Martin Williams, of St. Louis, was elected permanent chairman. James Maguire, of San Francisco, was the first speaker. Referring to the recent strike on the New York Central road, Judge Maguire said that the company was in fault. Henry George, he declared, wielded a greater influence than did any living man of the century.

On being introduced Mr. George was greeted with deafening applause. He came back, he said, with the assurance that they were on the march to victory. Tomorrow was theirs. The speaker said that freedom was not in this country but she was coming.

Mr. George declared himself in favor of the Federation of all English speaking races and pronounced the single tax idea to be the panacea for the political evils of the time. Ballot reform he considered a movement in the right direction.

Committees on resolutions and platform and addresses were then announced. Mr. George being made chairman of the latter committee.

CHICAGO CARPENTERS.

The Long Threatened Strike Takes Place. Hundreds Out.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The long threatened carpenters' strike took place today. By the order of the council, all union carpenters are called out with a few exceptions. The men working on the public schools will not be interrupted with, and those working for board of health are willing to pay the thirty-seven and one-half cents an hour called for by the agreement entered into last May, will be allowed to continue.

All others are reported to be determined to make another fight, and from present indications the fight will be a long and bitter one. The men say that in the event of failure they will strike again next spring and keep on striking until the bosses will recognize their demands and deign to treat with them in a friendly spirit.

THE CENTRAL TROUBLE.

A Question the State Board of Arbitration Will Meet.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The meeting of the state board of arbitration to-day will face the legal question of its existence as a state commission. Joseph H. Choate, the well known lawyer, has been chosen to represent the interests of the railroad company.

His first move will be to argue lack of jurisdiction in the investigation on the ground that the board's term of office legally expired in November last, and that no provision was made allowing the incumbents to hold over until successors are appointed. Mr. Choate appears as special counsel with Mr. Loomis, the lawyer in charge of the legal business of the railroad company.

Excursionists Robbed.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The Dunkirk, Allegheny and Pittsburg excursion train from Lillydale Sunday was the scene of a bold robbery. When the train stopped at the station a general rush for seats was made. M. F. V. Jackson, of Grand Rapids, Mich., had just seated himself when he was grabbed by two men. One held him while the other took his pocketbook. Both men disappeared in the crowd. The robbery was done so quickly that Jackson had no time to make any outcry. At the same time Mrs. John Stape, of Dunkirk, who was in the next car ahead, was robbed of a pocketbook containing $100, in the same manner. A jewelry store in Lillydale was also robbed of $450 worth of goods.

Hotel Burned—Three Lives Lost.

COMO, Cal., Sept. 2.—The Walford house was burned yesterday morning. The fire started in a room occupied by an invalid who, it is supposed, upset the lamp. Three persons were burned to death. Their bodies were found in the ruins. One was recognized as William Pryor, a Western Union lineman, the others could not be identified.

Almost Five Months at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—The British ship Arctura arrived in this port yesterday after a passage of 148 days from Liverpool with a cargo of general merchandise. The vessel encountered some pretty bad weather on the trip and the captain died, after which Chief Officer Cormack navigated the ship to port.

Where is Hale?

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—The fall term of court of queen's bench was opened here yesterday. The case against C. C. Hale, for shooting his brother-in-law, Cowles, from Cleveland, last spring, was to have come up but Hale did not put in an appearance and a bench warrant was ordered to be issued against him.

The interest bearing debt, exclusive of bonds issued to Pacific railroads is $650,818,020, or $19,821,340 less than a month ago. Custom receipts in August were $20,310,000 against $20,719,365 in August a year ago. Internal revenue receipts were $12,557,832, or about $100,000 more than in August, 1889. Of this amount $2,812,000 was in standard silver dollars and $2,440,000 in gold pieces.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—In the house yesterday Mr. Cooper, of Indiana, offered a resolution discharging Representative Smyser, of Ohio, from duty on the Ramm investigating committee, on the ground that Mr. Smyser owned stock in Ramm's refrigerator enterprise, which played so prominent a part in the investigation. At Mr. Smyser's request he was relieved from duty on the committee. The speaker said he had had no knowledge of Mr. Smyser's connection with the company.

The house passed, under suspension of the rules, the bill providing for government inspection of coal mines in the territories, senate bill extending criminal jurisdiction of federal courts to the great lakes, senate bill legalizing a bridge across the Missouri river at Lexington, Mo., bill to ratify agreements with the Sac and Fox and Iowa Indians in Oklahoma, and a substitute for the senate bill granting right of way to the Hutchinson and Southern railroad through Indian territory. At 5:40 the house adjourned.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The senate met at 10 a. m., but a quorum was lacking for half an hour or more. Mr. Blair wanted to adjourn as it was "Labor Day," a day that he thought ought to be universally observed.

Mr. Blair thought the day would be better honored by legislation in behalf of labor. Mr. Blair, taking him at his word, proposed to take up several labor bills that had recently come over from the house. Mr. Aldrich objected to further "bucconic" speeches. This incident occurred before the appearance of a quorum and the reading of the journal. The tariff bill was then taken up.

Trying to Force Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—H. T. Collins, a member of the New York Grant monument committee, yesterday telegraphed to Representatives Flower, Belden and Quinn, that if the Plumb resolution looking to the removal of the Grant remains to Arlington was not acted upon at once, the plans for the monument in New York would be adopted.

Huston Will Not Resign.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—United States Treasurer Huston has returned to Washington from a short visit to his home in Indiana. He says that the rumor that he is about to resign is revived probably by Democrats, who desire to make discord between the president and himself, and he added that he is too good a Republican to gratify them in that respect.

Nothing Official.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Acting Secretary of State Wharton, has received a telegram from the agent of the state department at San Francisco saying that no official news was received in the Honolulu mail which reached San Francisco on Saturday. The opinion prevails at the department that the story of a revolution on the island was unfounded.

Death Sentence Commuted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The president has commuted to imprisonment for life, at hard labor, the death sentence of John Wampoose, convicted in Wisconsin on charge of rape and sentenced to be hanged on the 30th inst.

READING, Pa., Sept. 2.—By the explosion of two barrels of oil in the hardware store of Pegley, Haff & Company, yesterday fire was started which damaged the building and stock to the extent of $8,000. Two firemen were badly burned.

A GREAT SCHEME.

Col. Caspar's Proposed Plan of Producing Showers of Rain.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Col. D. T. Caspar, who has been connected with the signal service since its foundation, early in the seventies, is at present stopping in this city. Talking of the service, he said:

"A curious little clause was tacked on to the appropriation bill while it was before the senate, and went through the legislative mill innocently enough and is now a law. It provides that, under the direction of the forestry division of the department of agriculture, $2,000 shall be expended on experiments in the artificial production of rainfall.

"There are those who are disposed to make merry over this provision of the appropriation bill, but really there is nothing so very absurd about it. No doubt there is plenty of moisture in the atmosphere at all times, if only it could be gathered at the right place and be made to fall upon the earth. Man has accomplished as difficult things as that in the realm of applied science. Then why not that? It is not contemplated, however, so produce rainfall by the slow growth of forests in the arid regions. The success of that method is still disputed. Under the new law it is proposed to find out whether rainfall can be produced by electricity, dynamite explosions or other mechanical agencies.

"Taking the cue from the fact that heavy cannonading on a battlefield or a Fourth of July celebration is followed by copious rains, the experimenters will work accordingly. The process of burning powder to produce rain has hitherto been too expensive to warrant its general use, but possibly cheaper explosives will be found. It has been proposed among other things to attach twenty-five pounds of dynamite to a small balloon and then send a flock of such balloons in the air with lighted fuses attached. At any rate," concluded the colonel, "one way or the other the arid lands of this country are bound to be brought under splendid cultivation sooner or later. They comprise some of the most fertile soil on earth."

ARKANSAS ELECTION.

Democrats Claim the State By Thirty Thousand Majority.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 2.—The state election passed off quietly so far as known to this hour. There was no trouble here. Partial returns and estimates received from thirty of the seventy-five counties in the state indicate an increased majority for Governor Eagle and the Democratic state ticket over two years ago, when his majority was 15,000. The Democrats claim the state by from 25,000 to 30,000 majority.

In the Third ward and several townships in this county, double polling places were established owing to a charge that the county judge violated the law in appointing judges of elections. The county is close and the result is doubtful.

Building Saved, but Three Lives Lost.

MASSACHUSETTS, Sept. 2.—Fire yesterday burned the carpenter shop and dwelling house of Nathaniel Hemingway at Milwood. Loss $2,000. Mr. Hemingway, while trying to save some property, was probably fatally burned. The chemical engine, while on the way to the fire, was struck by a train at Faulkner street station and the driver, George Phillips, instantly killed, while Samuel Kingston, third assistant engineer of the fire department, had a portion of one foot cut and otherwise injured. The engine was badly damaged.

Had a Hundred Pawn Tickets.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—John Temple and William Travis were arrested here last night by a Pittsburg detective while attempting to sell a watch. When searched they had in their possession over one hundred pawn tickets from brokers in New York, Detroit and Pittsburg, calling for watches, diamonds and other jewelry. One ticket from a New York broker called for $450. They were held for examination.

Double Murder and Suicide.

STOCKTON, Cal., Sept. 2.—News reaches here from West Point, a mining town in Calaveras county, of a probable double murder and suicide in that place on Friday night last. A man named Gallagher fatally shot his wife, killed his son and then committed suicide. Gallagher had been drinking heavily of late and committed the crime because of his wife's refusal to give him money to continue his debauch.

A Lonely Stranger.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 2.—A strangely-dressed unknown man is held in the city lockup as a vagrant. He appears perfectly sane, but for four days no one has been able to understand his language or make himself understood to the stranger. He has been addressed in every tongue that any one in this section can speak, but all to no purpose. The man seems greatly depressed.

Corn Cutters Strike.

TUSCULA, Ill., Sept. 2.—More than 1,000 broom corn cutters in Coles and Douglas counties left the fields yesterday and refused to work unless paid a twenty-five cents advance. Between 300 and 400 at Arcola joined in the strike. As the crop is heavy and the time short for harvesting the growers in many cases will be compelled to pay the advance demanded.

Army Reunion.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 2.—President Harrison and Gen. Sherman have both accepted invitations to be present at the twenty-first annual reunion of the society of the Army of the Cumberland, to be held here on Sept. 17 and 18.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Allen C. Durborow was nominated for congress by the Democrats of the Third Illinois district yesterday.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1890

"PROGRESSIVE PROTECTION" is what Mr. Blaine's new tariff policy is called now. It means simply that protectionists are progressing towards free trade.

THE Republicans have sense enough to see that the heaven of tariff reform is working wonders among the farmers of the country, and the R. I's are all falling in line with Blaine's reciprocity scheme.

Blaine.

Who was the leading advocate of the "home market" theory two years ago? James G. Blaine, and no one denounced more loudly than he, the demand of the Democrats that the markets of the world should be thrown open to the people of this great country.

What is Mr. Blaine doing now? Let his speech at Waterville, Me., last Friday answer. In regard to National questions, Mr. Blaine said: "I wish to declare the opinion that the United States has reached a point where one of its highest duties is to enlarge the area of its foreign trade."

Just what the Democrats have been advocating for years and years.

HON ROGER Q. MILLS,

The Great Tariff Reformer, to Speak at Catlettsburg Sept. 16th.

Hon. Roger Q. Mills, the great tariff reform advocate, author of the famous Mills bill, will speak at Catlettsburg Sept. 16th.

The Democrats of the Ninth Congressional district will meet at Catlettsburg on that date to nominate a successor to Hon. T. H. Paynter, and the announcement that the distinguished orator from Texas will be there and speak will draw thousands of "the untutored" of Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia to the county seat of Boyd.

The place will no doubt be completely overrun by the crowds who will throng to hear Mr. Mills. An effort should be made by the Executive Committee of the district to secure low rates over the C. & O. and other railroads for the occasion.

NEW APPELLATE CLERK.

W. W. Longmoor Executes Bond and Assumes the Duties of the Office. His Majority is 54,707.

Captain Woodford W. Longmoor qualified as Clerk of the Court of Appeals yesterday morning. His official majority over Judge Tinsley is but little less than 55,000, the exact figures being 54,707. Two counties, Elliott and Perry, failed to make any returns of their vote, and his real majority is no doubt over 55,000.

The names on Captain Longmoor's official bond are Harvey McDowell, Joseph Desha, Wm. Adams and Judge J. Q. Ward, all of Cynthiana. The bond does not specify any particular sum, but it is said it will aggregate at least $150,000. Mr. Longmoor appointed his brother-in-law, Abram Addams, of Cynthiana, and Robert L. Greene, one of Captain Poore's corps, the deputy clerks. Both are experienced at the business. Mr. Greene formerly resided at Augusta.

The Court of Appeals and Superior Court convened yesterday, commencing their regular fall term. Judge Holt became Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals and Judge Barbour was elected Presiding Judge of the Superior Court. The Court of Appeals enters upon the fall term with 191 cases on the general and 87 cases on the argument docket and the Superior Court with 317 cases on the general docket and 73 on the argument docket.

Weekly Report as to Kentucky Crops.

The weather for the past week has shown a decided excess of rainfall, a deficiency in temperature and a nearly normal amount of sunshine. The effect of these conditions upon crops of all kinds was very beneficial. Tobacco and corn particularly show a decided improvement. From the present outlook there is an excellent prospect of at least average crops of both. In some sections some slight damage to corn resulted from the excessive dampness of the soil and too much cloudy weather. The plowing for wheat is in progress, but on account of the wet soil not much work has yet been done. Pastures are reported to be in excellent condition, in all parts of the State. Late vegetables and hemp greatly improved.

County Court Doings.

Robt. Hunter, Evan Lloyd and Ryall Norris were appointed appraisers of the personal estate of Cynthia Ellen Savage, deceased.

Samuel P. Manley was appointed Deputy Clerk of the Mason County Court and took the oath of office.

Powell B. Owens, D. J. Reese and W. C. Pelham, a committee heretofore appointed, reported they had measured and received the second mile of the Shannon and Lowell pike, and an order was drawn on the Treasurer of Mason County for $1,500 for county's subscription.

Mary Brierly qualified as guardian of Lena Brierly, with Geo. W. Lloyd as surety.

Jas. W. Piper was appointed guardian of Nannie E. Clarke and Sudie M. Clarke and qualified with J. L. Daulton surety.

H. C. Hawkins and Geo. S. Collins were appointed administrators of Harbin F. Hawkins and qualified with Robt. A. Cochran and A. M. J. Cochran sureties. J. D. Raymond, H. P. Craycraft and J. W. Wheatly were appointed appraisers.

The Union Trust Company was appointed curator of Andrew M. Rogers, a minor, and qualified with its capital stock as surety.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. J. James Wood, druggist.

Soothing Power of a Nurse's Hand.

"I will tell you when there is agitation in the sick room," said a nurse. "It is when the women of the household think that a male patient is fond of a nurse. It is often the case that a sick man, exhausted and feeble, clinging to life like a drowning man to a straw, will want to hold your hand. Now, in such cases my hand performs the same sort of duty that the straw would. I let the patient hold it as I would let a baby hold my watch chain. But if it is the son of the house, and the women folks see it, they literally raise the roof. If it is the head of the house, and they see it and offer any objections, he generally does the roof raising act. I know of a case where the night nurse of a very famous man, who died not long since, could not get him to sleep without sitting by his side and letting him hold her hand. He was afraid he would die if he went to sleep, and he clutched her hand with a grip that left marks of his fingers on it."—Interview in New York Press.

FLEXIBLE, DAINTY, HEALTHFUL.

Cork Sole Turned Shoes

Are as flexible and dainty as the finest turn, and are the easiest walking Shoe made, the cork acting as a cushion to the foot. The cork being secured in a pocket, thus forming a part of the Shoe, it is impossible for it to work loose or break up. They are also the most healthful Shoe, as CORK IS A NON-CONDUCTOR OF HEAT AND MOISTURE. It prevents the warmth of the bottom of the foot from radiating and escaping in cold weather, and in warm weather it prevents the heat from the pavements from penetrating the foot.

LADIES wearing our Cork Soled Turned Shoes needn't fear cold, hot, damp or rough walks. They are as flexible and dainty a Shoe as the lightest turned Shoe made. Come and see them; they are a thing of beauty and comfort. Come and see, also, the largest retail stock of Boots and Shoes in the State. Selling at 25 per cent. less than anybody else sells them.

The work of putting in new fixtures is about finished. The furniture was made by the Robert Mitchell Furniture Company, of Cincinnati, and is antique paneled oak with oxidized trimmings and marble base, presenting an elegant appearance.

OUR RAMBLER

After a Long Rest Resumes His Walk About Town and Comments on Improvements

Of Late Years—Another Story and Perhaps Two to Be Added to the St. Charles Hotel.

Passing along Front street on my way to Market, in order to note improvements east of that thoroughfare, I can not refrain from making further mention of Mr. Newton Cooper's new building towering five stories in the air, a few doors west of Market. This building is sixty feet front by one hundred and forty feet deep, and is all in one open space within, simply floors being between the different stories. The elevator which speeds quickly up and down to the different stories is run by hydraulic power. Mr. Cooper says that his original idea of buying this property and building this immense structure right here on Front street, which seemed at the time to be given up to dilapidation and decay, was to rent it for a tobacco manufactory which was talked of at the time, but that failed and the structure is now, and has been, used since its completion by Cooper & Baldwin as a leaf tobacco and grain house, except the two or three upper stories which are rented to Mr. Anderson Finch, and is used for storing grain. Mr. Cooper says that he designs at once to raise the property which adjoins this large house and which runs along Front to the next alley west, including the new St. Charles Hotel and the old St. Charles sample room, another story anyhow, and will make it two stories higher, provided he can have assurance of reasonable rent for hotel purposes. This will make the whole front between the alleys a solid four and five story front, a great improvement for this locality, and which the passing passengers on the great C. and O. and on the steamers that glide hourly by can gaze on with admiration. Few men would have had the nerve to tackle this apparently deserted Front street property in the liberal way it has been done, and Mr. Cooper deserves the thanks of Maysville as a city and the encomiums of everybody for the liberal use of the means that he has through his own unostentatious exertions accumulated through life.

Turning the corner of Front into Market, I notice that the street presents an unobstructed view to the top of the grand protective hills beyond. Away up two squares, "Postoffice," in large letters on the rounded corner of the new "Cox Building," and plainly visible from either side of the street from the river, attracts marked attention. Right before me, as I cross the street, stands a new three-story brick building in the place of the old boarding house and rickety wooden concern that met the gaze of passers-by for years previous. The new building is occupied by Mr. Thomas Gullfoyle, and used as hotel with first-rate accommodations. Davis' clothing emporium stands next, and the building has been greatly improved. Even the little archway, which used to be called the vacant soup shop, is handsomely improved and now occupied by Mr. William Schatzman as a sample room, presenting an appearance equally creditable to other newly improved property adjoining. As I passed up street, an autumn-leaved gentleman, who did not know me, in answer to questions I asked him about new improvements, said: "You see that new building going up on the N. E. corner of Second and Market?" "Yes," said I. "That is the place where the Dodsons for years back, Omar and his father, have made business of money in the old three-story building that they have just torn down and on its site are erecting a four-story building which is now completed to the second story. Right adjoining this one on Second street that five-story building, which towers above anything in the city, was built by these same Dodsons. Next to this is a four-story elegant building occupied and owned now by Mr. Henry Orr as a wholesale and retail furniture store. It was built a few years ago by Mr. C. H. White and was the first four-story brick built in this row along Second street. Right next to this is another four-story building owned and built by the above mentioned Dodsons, and adjoining this a three-story which has just been finished, and was built by Mrs. John H. Wilson on property belonging to her deceased husband. All of these new improvements have been built from the ground up, and present a solid row of costly and towering buildings all standing in a place where a few years ago could be seen a plain marble yard, vacant lot or two and where the Dodsons five-story building stands, which is now filled with groceries, there stood for years and years a useless two-story tinder box, unoccupied, and which was the dread of neighbors in event of fire. It is said that all this improvement was started at first in a dispute about ground and afterwards in a spirit of rivalry. Charley White built the first house and chuckled over his four-story as the best house in the city. Then Dodson quietly cleared away the rubbish of his old building and commenced rearing one beside it and never stopped piling up the brick until it had reached five stories, one story higher than White's, and even had it topped off in front in the peculiar style of bond or bow that is seen in the turn of a rooster's neck and head just as he finishes a triumphant crow. And it still stands in that position. Charley says 'the crow is on his side,' for the extra story on Dodson's building affords him protection from cyclones, without cost." "Well," said I, to my autumn friend, "there is one thing certain, the buildings are there and both deserve credit for the liberal use of money in that way."

Proceeding up Market, I observe evidence of good business on every side. I notice on the opposite side that the old house where the stock of R. B. Lovel was burned out and the property sold to Messrs. Devine and Traxel has been improved and makes a fine appearance now. I get up to the corner of Third and Market and here I have full view of the wonderful change that has taken place in this locality, for here the property known as the "tan yard property," with but a row of buildings running along Third street and back of these the whole space to Fourth street covered with rats long since abandoned and high weeds covering the ground around, is now filled with a mass of elegant buildings, which being but recently built and the finishing touches on some not yet ever completed, are so prominent that they need but little notice to remind one of the great change. The grand edifice which stands on the corner and is a model of architectural beauty, is occupied on the lower floor by our Republican postmaster, T. A. Davis, and is probably the best arranged and well kept office in the State, or anywhere else. Adjoining this on Third street is a drug store, while the upper part of the building is used by the Masonic fraternity, and is fitted up in grand style. Along the Market street side of this once weed-covered space stand cozy, nice brick buildings with small porches in front, all of same pattern and constructed in modern style for dwellings, thus filling up the whole space clear around to and on Fourth street. There are six of these dwellings on Market street and four facing Fourth around the corner. The whole credit of these improvements is due to Messrs. W. H. Cox and George L. Cox, who have expended piles of money in their construction when United States bonds could have been purchased with a certainty of better profit and greater ease to themselves.

Talk about no improvements in Maysville, why I could write a book on them and not touch a piece of old property. I see I cannot get away from Market in this communication, it is growing too long. Right over there from where I stand is a late improvement I overlooked in articles west of Market, a tasty new dwelling adjoining the elegant new Baptist Church, built by our clever Ex-Jailer, Denny Fitzgerald, who used to entertain himself watching the boys swing on the trapeze in the old gymnasium that formerly stood in its place.

And adjoining this new postoffice and Masonic building on Third street is the cozy, stylish residence of Senator Charles Poyatz. It is built on a slice of the old "tan-yard property," which away back was owned by his grandfather. Next to this is the beautiful and costly dwelling of Geo. L. Cox, lately built on a vacant lot, but I have not time or space to ramble further.

There is not a piece of property in Maysville that has been improved by foreign capital. All of the money put into this steady growing city is made right here, and a surplus of over $1,000,000 dollars is now lying in the three banks subject to check. There are numbers of places here that would soon see the magic wand of improvement strike their shattered walls if the property could be purchased at a reasonable figure—not only the houses lying between the four-story brick business house on Market now occupied by Watson Bros. and the new four-story brick building being built by Dodsons on the corner; the Red Corner, where the enterprising clothier Martin holds forth, the little wooden shell adjoining Schatzman's new building on Market where Wils Riceson, as busy as a bee and beaming all over with smiles, stuffs more goods into the little wooden space and street than would fill a three-story house, and so on and on.

No Go.

The officers of the Maysville Fair Company regret that they can not make arrangements for a race between the great trotters, Nancy Hanks and Sunol. They were willing to put up a purse of $3,500, but the parties in charge of Hanks declined to enter into the arrangement. The company was the first to make a move to bring about a race between these horses and the liberal offer opened the eyes of the Lexington crowd.

Don't be surprised if you hear a match is now arranged between Hanks and Sunol to be trotted on the Lexington track.

MINER'S MAXIMS

There's nothing wonderful in

Selling good shoes at a high price;

Anybody can do that.

The wonder is, where good shoes are sold

At low prices.

That's MINER'S specialty.

Now, what in the world would we be advertising for, if all we had to offer was good shoes at an extra price? You've heard about the crazy man on the tower? He grabbed a stranger and said: "Let's jump down and make ourselves famous."

"Pooh!" said the ready-witted stranger, "any man could jump down; let's go down and jump up."

We're not crazy.

Not crazy enough, at least, to think that you'd jump at an offer of shoes from us, when you could do just as well elsewhere. We would not expect to win your trade by selling good shoes at a big price, and we wouldn't waste money advertising that fact. Our specialty is a GOOD shoe at a LOW price.

That's where we stand alone.

The fact we want to "ding" into everybody's mind is that good shoes at MINER'S cost no more than poor shoes, such as MINER don't keep—don't keep them because they won't spoil the record:

58 YEARS SELLING GOOD SHOES.

Trade Union Congress

It is Enthusiastically Opened in Liverpool.

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING.

The Congress is the Largest of the Kind Ever Held—Labor Leaders all Over Europe Keeping Watch Over Its Deliberations—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The opening of the trades unions' congress at Liverpool yesterday was marked by the greatest enthusiasm. The prominent labor agitators—Burns, Mann, Tillett and others—were wildly applauded. In the course of his address, John Burns warned the congress that it was necessary to keep the labor movement out of politics. As it was essentially an economic question and had nothing to do with Liberalism or Conservatism as such.

The congress is by far the largest and most important of the kind ever held. The steady and rapid growth of trade unionism, its importance to all men who labor in large bodies, the victories it has won for its supporters, all combine to make the present meeting significant, as much depends upon its decisions and decrees. Employers of labor are keeping as anxious a watch over the deliberations of the body as the workmen who are represented in it by delegates.

While labor has been tending toward more and more perfect organizations, capital has also been concentrating in syndicates and combinations, and its difficult to predict how much further the two movements can be pushed without reaching a point of collision or deadlock. The Socialists emphasize this difficulty, and their partisans in the congress are ready to argue that, despite its apparent success, trade unionism is but a temporary expedient, which will ultimately be circumvented by the capitalist employers who are in a position to outline the employees when it comes to a final struggle.

The Socialists therefore claim that nothing short of a radical change in the wage system will effect a permanent uplifting of the masses to a condition of reasonable comfort. But the Socialists are in a hopeless minority in the congress, and nothing revolutionary is likely to come of the meeting.

The London dockers and gas workers, the Liverpool wood cutters, lightermen and leather workers are represented now for the first time in a general labor conference.

Among the most prominent representatives of labor present are Messrs. Broadhurst, Burt and John Wilson, members of parliament, John Burns, Thomas Mann, Ben. Pickard, Clem Edwards, Hayden Saunders and George Shipton. Lady Wilky, Beatrice Patter and Miss Routledge, secretary of the Womans' Trades Council, are looking after the women's interest.

The program of the congress is:
First—Employers liability bill.
Second—Certificates of competency for men in charge of steam engines and boilers.

Third—The desirability of increasing the number of factory and workshop inspectors.

Fourth—Public contracts and fair wages.

Fifth—The right of relatives of deceased miners to be represented at coroners' inquests.

Sixth—Co-operation and its relation to trades unionism.

Seventh—Representation of labor in parliament.

Eighth—Eight-hour day.

The discussion on the last named question will probably be exceedingly animated as its advocates and opposers are nearly equal, most of the new unions favoring the limitation of working hours by legislation, while the older and more conservative unions have instructed their delegates to oppose such a view at present. The election of a new secretary of the parliamentary labor committee will also arouse a hard struggle during the meeting.

The congress is held in Hope hall. The mayor of Liverpool welcomed the delegates and all the city officers are exerting themselves to make everything pleasant for their guests. The morning's session was largely devoted to the reading of annual reports by the president, Wm. Watkins, who is general secretary of the Carpenters' and Joiners' union, and by the secretary, Joseph Goodman, who is also secretary of the Liverpool trade's council. The afternoon and evening were devoted to excursions and sightseeing.

Flood in the Tyrol.

BERNE, Sept. 2.—Telegrams concerning the flood area is much greater than it was in 1888, and the damage has been immense, although as yet but two human lives have been lost. So far as is known all railroad travel through the afflicted districts is stopped. Stone dams have been broken down and partially carried away. Those people who still remain in the neighborhood live in upper stories of the houses, while many have even been driven to the roofs. Help has been asked and is readily extended from every quarter in the shape of money and clothing.

Wreck Caused by a Landslide.

BERNE, Sept. 2.—A fatal railroad collision, caused by a landslide, occurred yesterday near the mouth of the St. Gothard tunnel, where a passenger train ran into a mass of earth which covered the track. A guard was killed and several others on that train were injured. The line is now clear.

Destructive Fires in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 2.—The various recent fires in Russia which are estimated to have destroyed property valued at over 500,000 roubles, are attributable to the intensely hot weather, the country being in a parched condition.

Armenians to Be Murdered.

VIENNA, Sept. 2.—It is learned that the Kurds are preparing to massacre the Armenians living on the frontier, the pretext is that the intended victims contemplated passing into Turkish territory.

BLUE SUNDAY AT WHEELING.

Law and Order Headquarters Mobbed. Overdoing the Business.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The Law and Order league Sunday inaugurated a wholesale enforcement of the Sunday laws. Every saloon in the city was closed. Not a cigar, glass of soda water or dish of ice cream could be purchased in any part of the town, and nothing but necessary medicines could be bought at the drug stores. The ice wagons were not run and great inconvenience was felt.

Sunday night the affair reached a climax when a mob of men and boys stormed the Law and Order headquarters. President Watkins was struck twice and badly hurt. Outside of the Law and Order people the community is generally disgusted with this enforcement of the blue laws, and it is predicted that the reform will fall by the weight of its odiousness: in not stopping with the closing of the liquor saloons.

Had the movement stopped there, public sentiment would have sustained it, but owing to the extreme measures taken, there was a revulsion of feeling throughout the city. The next move, it is said, will be on the newspapers. Even the news dealers remained closed, and Sunday papers were delivered only to regular subscribers.

KENTUCKY MILITIA.

They Have Had Some Active Work in Perry County.

HAZARD, Ky., Sept. 2.—Lieut. Bonta and three soldiers have returned from a lively raid in search of several outlaws that remained yet uncaptured. Bad Tom Smith, one of the murderers of Joseph Eversole, is yet at large, with no clue as to where he is. Four prisoners were brought back by Lieut. Bonta.

The detachment in charge of Lieut. Bonta was fired upon, and Sergt. Fred. Gordon, of the Johnson guards, was seriously injured by receiving a ball in the calf of his left leg. The troops returned fire, but it is not known whether anybody was killed in the attacking party.

The troops have left Hazard and several outlaws yet remain uncaptured. Judge Lilly refused to allow bail in any of the murder cases, and twenty-three men have been taken to the Clark county jail at Winchester.

Four For the Penitentiary.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 2.—A detail of state guards under command of Lieut. Gaines arrived here in charge of four prisoners from Perry county. The prisoners were sentenced at the late term of the Perry circuit court. They were placed in the penitentiary.

Aid from Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 2.—At a special meeting of District Assembly No. 125, Knights of Labor held yesterday, resolutions were passed expressing sympathy with the discharged employees of the New York Central and pledging all the moral and financial support in its power. A committee was appointed to issue an appeal to all the labor bodies in the province, asking for their financial aid for the strikers. Considerable money has already been contributed.

Welcoming Henry George.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—A large delegation of single-tax men met the steamer Servia at her dock and gave Henry George, who has just returned from his Australia trip, a hearty welcome. Among those who met Mr. George were William K. Garrison, of Massachusetts; Judge J. G. Maguire, of California; Batton Smith, of Memphis; J. Brooker, of South Dakota, and delegates from all parts of the country.

Murdered for Money.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 2.—Anton Maus, 80 years old, was murdered Saturday at his home in Preble, Brown county. About $350 was stolen from the house. The discovery was made by his son on the latter's return from Green Bay yesterday.

Six Incendiary Fires.

CANTON, Ill., Sept. 2.—There were six incendiary fires here last night. Only two succeeded. Four stables and some small buildings, and the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad stock yards buildings were burned.
